

Lanester

Simple and efficient

About –

The project takes place in Lanester, in the region of Brittany. The public building owner and the project manager had never done any reuse in their project ; but they showed a great motivation for the approach
The pilote operation relates to a 40 housing building demolition.

Challenges –

Extract materials for futur reuse by finding the good balance between the ambitions of the project and the capacities of the local reclamation sector.

Initiate a reuse process and increase the skills of the stakeholders in order to accelerate the change in the regional area.
